

Hamilton Robinson Capital Partners

As we head out to celebrate the Memorial Day weekend, we all have "the need for speed". No one is looking forward to spending hours in traffic and paying the highest gas prices in U.S. history. AAA expects 34.9 million people will hit the road this weekend, up 4.6% over last year and the national average for a gallon of gasoline is now $4.59. You could also opt for a staycation and watch the 36-year return of the all-time classic Top Gun movie.

The current business environment has many similarities to Top Gun. Businesses and their management teams are being stretch to their limits. The words resiliency, flexibility and adaptation are all top of mind for our portfolio companies. At Hamilton Robinson, we partner with U.S. businesses to help them overcome the challenges of today and prepare them to take advantage of the growth opportunities of tomorrow. We like to stick with the basics, and we are always looking for good companies with strong management teams.

We currently partner with Signal Control Products, one of the premier U.S. suppliers of traffic control and monitoring equipment and we are looking for additional companies in the traffic control sector. Companies that are bringing smart-technology to our busiest intersections nationwide, companies that are bringing improved safety to our highways and your everyday drive home, and companies that are making our vehicles and driving behaviors more sustainable for our environment.

If you have any clients in the traffic management sector looking to ensure their company's legacy turns into longevity, please feel free to contact us at any time at 203-602-0011 or email below.

Sincerely,

Lane Carpenter
